ACM Hypertext 2025 – Call for Tutorials

We invite proposals for tutorials from active researchers and experienced tutors in academia, industry, and government agencies. Tutorials should cover state-of-the-art research and ideas, innovative developments, and novel applications in a specific aspect of hypertext and social media. Still, proposals are especially encouraged on emerging topics related to the main conference themes.

Please send us the following information:

- Title of the tutorial
- Keywords (describing the main themes of the tutorial)
- Abstract
- Description of the tutorial (topics and goals)
- Presenters' biographies (1-2 paragraphs per presenter)
- Confirmation that the tutorial will be complete in half a day (3 hours)
- Expected background and prerequisite of the audience
- Relevance of the tutorial to the ACM Hypertext
