“Issues and Challenges in Innovation and Equity”
14-16 July 2025, Phnom Penh, Cambodia

The MentalHeel2025 is a global forum where mental health professionals, researchers, policymakers, academics, students, practitioners and community facilitators come together to strengthen efforts to improve the quality of public health delivery and to share the latest research to promote best practices.

There are opportunities to present research findings, case studies, review articles. If your work is still in progress or proposals for future research, they are all worthy of consideration. Whether an established researcher or a student, you can safely present, respond to questions and discuss a wide range of topics in a very supportive and friendly environment. The conference can be especially useful for first time and early career presenters.
